

MAMA+

Comprehensive Support to HIV-positive Mothers with Young Children

Roman Yorick, MD, MPH
HealthRight International

Target Groups

- Street children and youth
- Children in institutions
- HIV-affected families
- Women and children victims of violence and abuse
- Women and children in conflict with the law
- Migrant families
- Service providers

Marina and Olya, Russia

- Marina, 23
- Used drugs since she was 14, on drugs through pregnancy
- Partner also uses drugs and alcohol
- Never went to prenatal clinic
- Found she was HIV+ at the maternity hospital
- Intended to abandon the child, enrolled into MAMA+

Marina and Olya, Russia

- Home visiting to ensure child safety
- Child day care
- Support mother to abstain from drugs
- Access to welfare and HIV care
- Child HIV+, both mother and child on ARV

Natalia and Igor, Ukraine

- Natalia, 25
- Used drugs since she was 13
- Diagnosed as HIV+ through a harm reduction program at 16
- At 21 enrolled into treatment preparedness program
- Enrolled into MAMA+ during pregnancy
- On substitution therapy
- Three-stage ARV PMTCT

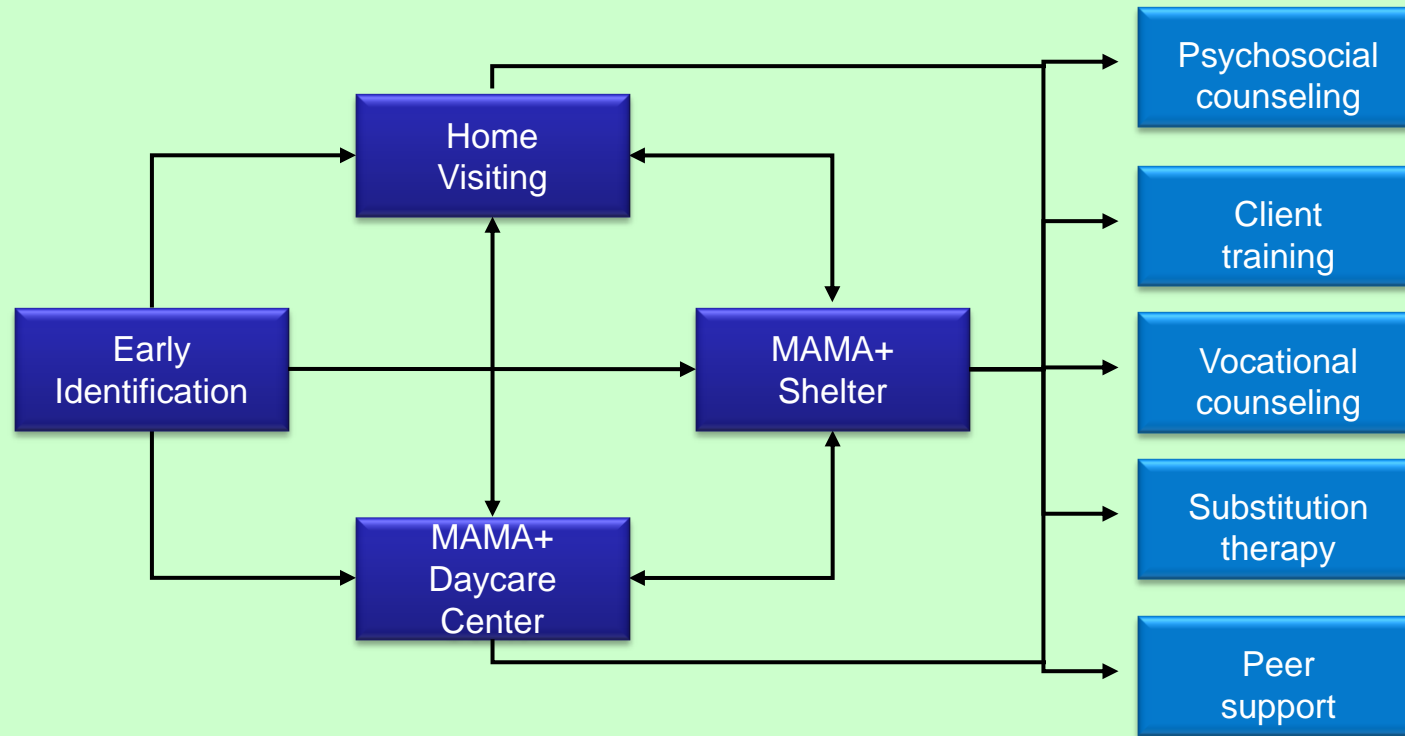

Natalia and Igor, Ukraine

- Home visiting to ensure child safety
- Child day care
- Access to welfare
- Restore relationship with Natalia's mother
- Relapsed to drug use
- Child HIV-negative
- Enrolled into university

MAMA+ model components

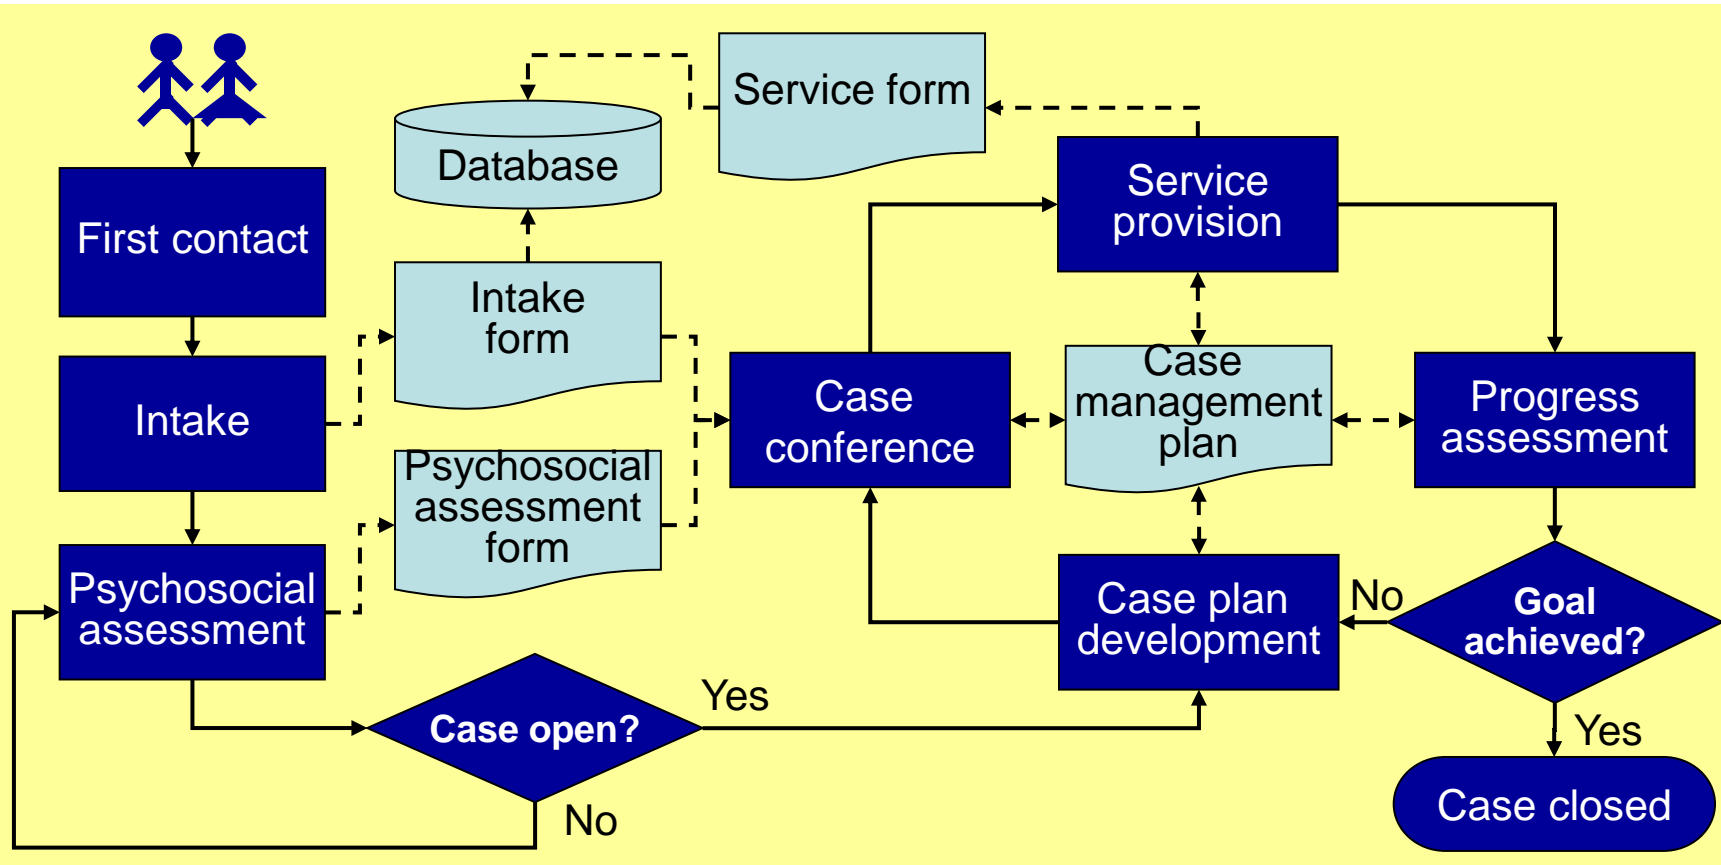

Professional team

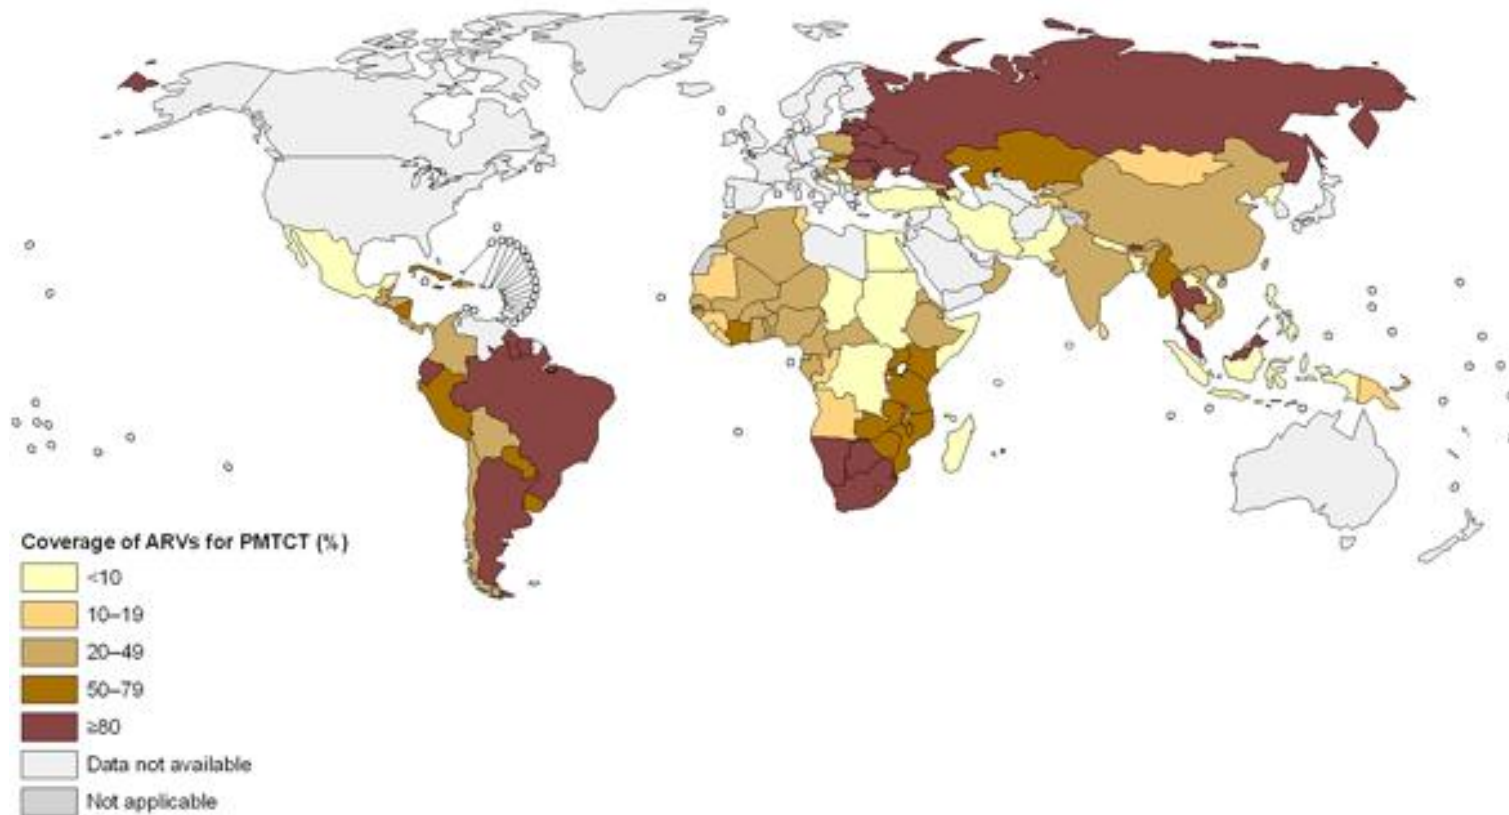

- Social workers
- Psychologists
- Medical providers
- Educators
- Lawyer
- Peer counselors

Case Management Methodology

ARV Coverage for PMTCT, 2009

Challenges

- Substitution therapy
- Harm reduction
- Drug rehab
- Milk formula as part of PMTCT
- Access to care for migrants
- Maintaining the methodology
- Funding for NGOs

www.HealthRight.org

www.HealthRight.org.ua

www.doctors2children.ru

Roman.Yorick@HealthRight.org

